

Please join us on October 4th 2022 3pm-5:30pm CEST for the second Working Time Society Global Seminar

We are delighted that this virtual seminar will feature primarily early career researchers (ECR) and their latest research highlights on "Shift work, sleep and human health: risks and mechanisms" This webinar is organized in collaboration with Dr. Kyriaki Papantoniou from the Medical University of Vienna in Austria (<https://www.meduniwien.ac.at/web/>) and Dr. Helene Garde from the National Research Centre for the Working Environment in Copenhagen, Denmark. (<https://nfa.dk/>).

Follow this LINK to register for the seminar FOR FREE – please consider a donation to support the society and early carrier researchers in our WTS network, if you can.

See you there

Stephen Popkin, PhD
President, Working Time Society
